TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Alexandra (Ali) Reynolds of Cargill Interiors designed our kitchen, bathrooms, and closets when we renovated our co-op apartment last summer.

From the moment we met Ali, we were impressed with her professionalism, knowledge, thoroughness, and attention to detail. She understood us immediately and what we and the decorator were trying to do with the apartment. The challenge was the limited space we had to work with, especially in the kitchen.

Ali took the challenge in hand and came up with a great design. She convinced us to include things we did not necessarily think we needed. She fit more into the kitchen than we ever imagined possible.

We loved her designs from the beginning. Now that we have had time to live in the space, we realize how truly wonderful they are. The features she convinced us to add, we use all the time and can't imagine being without.

Since we were not here during most of the time the renovations were going on, Ali worked with the contractors and their teams to ensure that the design was faithfully executed on time, on budget, and on spec. We are thrilled with the results.

We also enjoyed working with Ali on a personal level. She made the whole process fun, which when you are dealing with endless decisions about closets and cupboards is saying something.
