

My wife and I happily recommend Alexandra Reynolds and Cargill Interiors. Ali managed the renovation of our new house in Ocean Ridge while we were away for the entire summer and the project would never have been completed on time had it not been for her. She consistently demonstrated conscientiousness, persistence, good judgment, and professionalism. On top of that, Ali brings a passion to her work which assures clients are always getting first rate service every step of the way. She is a pleasure to work with, acts with integrity and determination, always looks for ways to save her clients money, and knows how to get things done.
